

Profile of Bradley Barbuto

Bradley is an Aboriginal Education Officer at Pia Wadjarri Remote Community School. He is passionate about his people. Bradley has lived in WA for over 20 years having come West from NSW in 1999. A family man who chose to bring his young family to the Murchison to help educate the local children and to give his children the experience of being on country. He has lived here for 2 years this November. He stands for all people and is an advocate against suicide, regularly performing and talking at events about the effects that suicide has on communities. A motto that Bradley lives by is that 'Suicide Doesn't Discriminate So Why Should I?' I have chosen to make Pia my family's home. I hope to be a voice for a large part of the Murchison Population. Those that reside in Pia Wadjarri Remote Community.
